“ Michelle and family, I am so sorry for your loss. I worked with you fresh out of nursing school on 2 SW and you are someone that I will never forget. You are such a wonderful, smart, and compassionate person and I am so confident that you will get through this and come out stronger on the other side. I wanted you to know how you impacted my life and I'm sure many others. At this unbelievably difficult time God is still using you to touch others and that is so wonderful. “ Donny and Michelle, there is nothing anyone can say to you to ease the pain and brokenness you are feeling right now. I pray God shows you His peace, even when none of it makes sense and you don't understand. My hope for you is peace. Addison received 2 incredible gifts in her short life...one was to be born to amazing and loving parents, even if it was for a short time. Then secondly, she was given ultimate and eternal healing in the hands of God and in that fact alone we can rejoice, because she is no longer sick. Donny, I love you like a brother and my heart is broken for you and Michelle and your mom and families, but know that if you ever need strength or encouragement, or just need to talk...I am always here. Know that! I love you guys!###imported-begin##Nathan Maloney###imported-end##

“ I am so, so, so sorry for the two of you. I could not even imagine what it would be like to endure such a heartache. I have gone through many, many hard struggles in my life and I know one thing that is certain. That if you place your trust in Jesus Christ, He will see you through it all. These things happen in life and we have the opportunity to overcome if we will just have faith. It sounds easy I know, but it works and it stands as a testimony to His love for us. People will watch how you handle this situation and no one could handle it perfectly, but if you just hold on to the fact that God will work all things out for the good to all those that love Him and keep His commandments, later you will see that He is faithful and that He is in the business of turning chicken poo into cherry cheese cake! I know I don't get to see you or communicate with you like I should but I do love you both and you will certainly be in my prayers.##imported-begin##Lawrence Scott Andrews##imported-end##

“ My precious granddaughter Addison. I will always cherish the memories of the short time I had with you here on earth. To see you, to touch you, to hold you and kiss you. I pray your family in heaven that have gone before us are sharing their pure love with you now and that you being now healed and whole can receive it with joy. I look forward to joining you someday in heaven for eternity. I pray your mommy, daddy and sister Aubrey will grow even closer in a special loving way because of your presence. “ Dear Michelle, Donny, and Aubrey, The greatest heartache a mother can have is watching her own daughter and son-in-law experience the loss of their precious baby Addison. Eventhough God's will be done, and I am most thankful we were able to hold and love little Addison for a week, my heart aches for you both. My prayers are with you and I am comforted in knowing that one day we will see our little angel in heaven. I love you dearly. Gammie###imported-begin##Barbara Thomas###imported-end##
