“ My sweet grandmother. The lady who spent her entire life doing for others. I don't know of one single thing she ever did for herself. She had a tough life, yet she never complained. She saw the good in everyone despite their mistakes. She was the sweetest woman in the world and deserved so much more. My kids called her "Big Grandma" and she adored them, just as she did all of her grandchildren and great grandchildren. My life will never be the same without her and I will miss her dearly.
