“ Dear Charles and the Davidson family,

Billy Graham once said, "The word 'departure' literally means to pull up anchor and set sail. Everything that happens prior to death is a preparation for the final voyage. Death marks the beginning, not the end. It is our journey to God".

May the Lord comfort you and strengthen you through this difficult time. May Annie May Davidson's testimony of faith reach far beyond the wildest imagination. Thank you Charles for your faithfulness in sharing the Good News of Jesus Christ! As Billy always says, "God, Loves You!"

In His Hands.

Take the time. Make every moment precious because you never know the footprints you leave in the sand and the mark you make on someone else's life.

“ Mother you taught me how to live and taught me how to die. Your physical, emotional, mental, suffering did not go in vain. Your end of days on this earth exemplified the pain of our Jesus Christ as HE gave up his life on the cross for us. He used you to teach our family so much how to prepare for our own passing. This knowledge we will share to minister to others. Death is a must for all of us. Given all -we know it is still a unique mystery but you were the key to the Reality to the Kingdom of Heaven. You have given me strength and knowledge so much you will never know. And mom.... I still feel your heart, your voice, your laugh. I know you are happy as you are with your folks, your friends and your beloved grandson- Billy Sumner. "There's Going To Be a Meeting in The Air. We will meet you there in the Sweet, Sweet, Bye and Bye.

“ My mother worked for her, and I did also on the summers as I was a teenager. My sister went there after school, so did my daughters as I too became an adult, and had children of my own. I always remember as such a great person, always helping, and having such a great smile always. She was so kind to all of us, and so sweet with children in general. We will miss her greatly.

“ Nanny, was a beautiful, caring, hardworking, and loving person. She enjoyed sharing her stories of her life's events and adventures. She will be greatly missed, but the memories made with her and those memories made by her will carry on through all of us. Makenzie and Madizynn, her great granddaughters, always enjoyed sharing time with her. She allowed them to play with her many dolls out of her collection, dance and sing to perform for her, and pretty much eat anything they wanted to! Our girls would always come home from Nanny's house and their hands would smell like Vanilla Wafers---it is said that smells trigger memories. I hope that when the girls smell Vanilla Wafers, they will always remember their Nanny...I know I will!
