“ Ashlee, I don't even have the right words to describe how much you have changed my outlook on life. You always wanted me to stay positive and that it does no good to be negative about everything. You taught me that there's always a bright side, even in the darkest of situations. I'm trying to find the bright side right now, for you, and I will carry on your way of thinking throughout my life. I want to spread your legacy and make sure people know just how special you are to so many people. I will miss you so very much, but I know that I'll see you again one day. I'm very grateful to have known you, Ashlee.

“ *Ashley we will miss you so very much. I remember many of nights you tony and i would talk on the phone and tony would tell us jokes and make us laugh so hard we would cry. You loved his jokes and we loved he could make you laugh. Ashley you are the strongest person I have ever known. No matter the day you had or the news you received you always had a positive outlook on everything. I think we have all learned from you and your kindness and can pass it on. I know our girls baily and riley looked up to you and they love you oh so much and will miss you dearly! You have made all of us better people. Even though you are gone you will always be with us looking over us and we will never forget you! We love you always! Tony, Emily, Baily and Riley.
My wish is that your beautiful wings match your beautiful spirit and we will see you again!*

“ Ashlee became a huge part of my life around the time she was in middle school, she and my daughter Kady became best friends and were pretty much always together. I remember picking Ashlee up for school and she would keep me waiting every morning, I could never quite figure out what she was doing. I kept looking for her in the rear view mirror and there she would appear all bouncy and wide eyed. I loved her like my own and I miss her, God is with her now and she is smiling and happy and most of all pain free. Kisses to you Ashlee..... forever my girl. Love, Dawn

“ Words cannot express the sorrow that I feel for you. No parent should ever have to lose a child. Our loving Creator knows how hard this is on you. We are told at Ezekiel 18:32 “for I do not take any delight in the death of someone dying, is the utterance of the Sovereign Lord .” As you can see, He does not like death anymore than we do. It is not his will for us to die which is why He has given us the hope of everlasting life! (Psalms 37:9-11, 29; Rev. 21:3, 4). As the God and Father of tender mercies, He wants you to find comfort in Him through prayer (2Cor 1:3).

“Ashlee was this incredibly witty and peculiar and tiny and hilarious and beautiful woman. I first met Ashlee in 2006: my freshman year at Kathleen High school. We befriended in a social studies class - we had been outcasts in that classroom and related to each other from the first day. We both enjoyed Marilyn Manson and making jokes of all of our peers who were obviously less than fabulous. We were super hardcore and filled with that teen girl angst. She left Kathleen after that year, and, against the vows that we made to each other, we drifted apart. However, we had mutual friends that kept our life paths connected. Through my friendships with Courtney and Josh we began hanging out again. It was like we picked up where we left off. We'd have incredibly quirky conversations about the strangest things and make good fun out of ourselves and our friends. We both had to take a lot of medication so we'd enforce comedic relief out of our situations and just joke about our less than perfect bodies. There are so many memories I'd love to relive, over and over again, for eternity. Just like everyone that knew her, there are many things I would have loved to experience with her. Ashlee revealed to me that I really have no control over life, or death for that matter. I can only control my reactions to the finite amount of experiences that will occur to me. I will strive every day to be as strong-willed and courageous as Ashlee. Instead of asking questions that will never be answered, I will strive to focus on how lucky I am to have been able to have a friendship with such a powerful person. It's been an impossibly tough realization for me, I can't even imagine how others are coping. I send my best regards to each and every person who knew her, and I look forward to celebrating Ashlee with all of you.

“ I love you baby, you will always be the love of my life and i am so honored to call you my fiance. You will live on in my heart forever and always, ill never forget all of the memories that we have shared. Our first dates like going to the park sitting under the tree reading the many page long note we wrote to each other. Eating pizza lunchables all the movies we would go watch at the theater. You are the strongest person i have ever met and a idol to us all. You fought a fight many of us could not you are my hero baby. words can not express how much i miss you. In my eyes you are my wife Mrs, Ashlee McCoy. I will never let you go, nobody will ever take your place in my heart. I know you are my guardian angle and you will help me get through this. You are healed now and pain free in heaven,I promise that I will take care of your family the way you would and our lil baby oli. He loves and misses his mommy too, I promise to come visit you everyday and tell you about my days. You will never be forgotten you have made me a better caring giving person. I will help the ones that are fighting their battles, You are the love of my life Ashlee we will be together again. you are my hero baby forever and always I Love You Ashlee.

“ For the entirety of my life, I've had this beautiful human being by my side. I was absolutely spoiled to have had an older sister figure like Ashlee. As a child, I looked up to her as a role model and unabashedly tried to copy everything she did and even now as adults, I admire everything about her and for the rest of my life I'm going to strive to be just like her in every way. She was so sweet and optimistic and just exuded love in everything she did. Bubs, I'll never be able to watch a horror film, play Mario Kart, cook Korean food, or bake cupcakes without thinking of you and all of our joyous memories together. I'll love and miss you forever.

“ Sissy, we have so many wonderful memories. From cheerleading, to pranks, to long nights of making fun of Dad and my mom. The phrase "dead dead dead" and "scared scared scared" will always make me laugh. And every time I hear or see "sisters forever", I'll think of the time I was silly and made a cheer for you... which consisted of high kicks and claps. But I was so excited. And after that cheer, you told me that you loved it. Years later, you told me it was the silliest thing you ever seen, but it was the sweetest thing that I had done for you. It's silly, but it's something I will hold on to forever. We have so many great memories. I love you sissy.
P.S. Sisters forever <3 and always

“ I met Ashlee when I was 8 years old, we were going to the state fair with our parents but sadly it got rained out, we stopped at a gas station and I heard her mom tell her she couldn't have any candy so I bought her some M&M's, we were attached at the hip from then on, riding bikes in Nana and Baca's yard, chasing birds that flew down the chimney, pretending we were Britney Spears and Shania Twain, watching The OC, making stupid home videos, I have a life time of memories and stories I could share. We have had our up and downs in the past 15 years as every friendship does but when it came down to it we could always just pick back up where we left off. Ashlee was a one of a kind best friend, and she was wise beyond her years. She always inspired me to be a better and stronger person and because of her I am. I will always remember her sarcasm and how brutally honest she was, but I loved that about her because it was nice to have someone who could always set you straight and put a smile on your face at the same time. Babygirl, I can't thank you enough for the best 15 years of my life, thank you for always being my side, there isn't another person I would have rather had by my side in this adventure we call life. I love you forever and always and forever is a very long time.
Love Always,
Courtney <3

“ I have so many memories of Ashlee. Ome of my favorite ones is of us laying underneath what we dubbed the "marshmallow" blanket and listening to Frank Sinatra's version of "I'm Dreaming of A White Christmas." She was the most amazing person I've ever known and I'm so glad I got to call her my best friend. She'll live on forever in my heart and I'll cherish the 12 years we got to spend together.
