“ I can remember as a child growing up you were just across the street. Back when Margie and my self were children, running around back and fourth from your house to granny Brock's house , just to see who was cooking what! Always hearing Conway Twitty playing on the radio...well playing on the record player "I think you had every album" to this day when I hear Conway Twitty I always think of you...I always have,and always will...fly high Brenda rest in peace love you

“ I have always heard that cousins are children's first best friends... Brenda was my first childhood best friend. We did everything together...played at each other's houses, walked up and down Wiggins Road eating oranges all day, rode bikes, curled each other's hair, put on musicals and pretend concerts in her back yard, watched scary movies Friday nights and Saturday afternoons. Meal times were wonderful because Mama Brock was such a great southern cook and I was always included if I was down at Brenda's at the time.

Later years, Brenda and I would relive those memories...we would always say "remember that time....." and have the best laugh. I will miss that.

Love to Beth, Cecil and Krysta and the extended Brock/Binnion family
