“ I know words are not enough to express my sadness that Brenda is gone. Ernest, I know the pain and grief you and the kids are going through right now but I know that she is in heaven and she's cancer free. So very sorry!! I'm glad the boys and their families are near by and that the family you and Brenda made together will be a great comfort in the days ahead. God bless you all.

There are no words that we can say to ease the pain of Aunt Brenda's passing except to say God has called her home to a place where there will be no more suffering and she will now be at peace. Remember all of the beautiful memories you have both shared over the years. Kenny and Brenda King

“ My heart aches for you Earnest, the boys and all the family. Brenda was so special to me. I have many good memories. She gave me my wedding shower 44 years ago and my son, Justin, baby shower 27 years ago. We joined the gym and walked the track together.Shopping, lunches and just hanging out with her was so much fun. We shared a lot of laughs, a few tears and many long talks.I always admired her and loved her dearly.We may have went years not seeing each other because of life’s circumstances but when we met again it was like we had never been apart. We just picked up where we left off. I love and miss you sweet cousin....until we meet again 🌹🌹🌹
