“ To Mrs. Marvena and Family, My heart is broken and troubled to hear about your loss. I am deeply sorry and there are no words to say. Brittney and I were such good friends back in the day, but sadly that friendship was lost when I moved away. I will always remember the good times we had. You all will be in my prayers. I will pray that God give you comfort and allow you to find peace in this situation. I truly believe that God has a bigger plan and this was a part of it. We will see her again someday, and it may seem like a long time for us, but it will only seem like a few minutes for her in heaven. I just wanted to let you all know my family and myself are thinking and praying for you. With love and prayers. Jessica and Family.##imported-begin##Jessica Johnson & Family##imported-end##

“ To my dear sweet daughter, I miss you so much and my heart is broken, but I know I will see you again in heaven someday. You can see you dad and brother again and I know that makes you happy. I'm so glad you gave your heart to God,you made so many changes in your life. I spoke to you about being a leader on Thanksgiving day and you said you would like to do that for your friends, so I hope everyone that reads this will be inspired by you to accept Jesus in their life. I don't like to think of you as gone, I like to think that you are on a journey, because for you life has just begun, and now I know that your sorrows and tears have been replaced with warmth and comfort, and we have nothing left but our sadness to pass away. You will live on in my heart forever because nothing loved is ever lost. Mom##imported-begin##Mom##imported-end##
