“ Our world was rocked in a way we never expected when I, a few days ago I heard this world lost Alton. I say “this world” because he truly was sent here for every person that was ever touched by this loving, humble God fearing man. My heart breaks for his wife and children. I know we will miss him as our mourning for this loss has just begun. I walked into that store one day, finally free from a relationship that nearly crushed my kids and I, I needed items to start our new life , just me and my crew. The moment I looked at this man I knew, felt that I just met a friend. Over the last few years, and a move to Tennessee, I always called Alton with and and all questions. He never spoke an unkind word, always made everyone feel his compassion he had, even when some customers couldn't pay. He never made anyone feel “less than”. I promised him when I moved, I'd leave all my contracts at his store, because it was HIM that kept me always coming back , buying more, paying things off... and Alton..I will still keep that promise, in your honor ... Amber, we never had the pleasure of meeting, Alton and I would talk about family, the kids, (I have the same amount of kids y'all do) and laugh at the tricks and mischief they would get into.
My deepest condolences to you.
This would was blessed because God loaned us an angel, and now he's back in heaven..
It truly is a better world having this amazing man In it...
Lynn, Zack, Emmy and Holden La Vita...Alton's customers.

“ Me and Little Alton didn't really have a choice but to be friends growing up. You see my dad Lynn Shirley and Big Alton were best friends. This lead to many excursions of me and Little Alton getting in trouble together and having the kind of fun boys had. We have caught Big Alton in a trot line in their front yard and spent many of evenings together fishing off of the sea wall with our dads. He was older than me so when I was a freshman at Plant City High I think Little Alton used to live close cause I would skip school and we would go fishing off the pier. So many awesome memories have been stirring around. Little Alton was raised like I was. He is the guy you should look up to as I did my entire childhood. I never told him but I always thought he was the coolest kids and wanted to be just like him.

Dink will be missed.

“ Alton is my son-in-law, I am so proud to call him that because I know how much he loves Amber, you could look at the two of them and see how much love is between them. That is what breaks my heart for her. He was such a good man and I thank him for that, He loves his kids. He was a wonderful father, would do anything for any of them. The older kids are so devastated over this. The two younger ones are gonna miss him, we will keep the memory of him going for these two little boys. He loves his two granddaughters and had just found out about two weeks ago that his youngest daughter (Kaitlyn) is expecting their first grandson. He was over the moon with joy looking forward to that. We will forever be grateful for the time we all had with him. Please keep Amber and the kids in your prayers

Love you Alton
