“ My dear Anita. If I could have one last conversation with you right now I would tell you that I miss you so much and that I hope you know how much you mean to me. Knowing you was one of the biggest blessings in my life. You taught me so many things that only a loving mother could. You were my go to person when I needed advice. You were going through a lot and somehow you still found a way to make me feel like my tiny problems mattered. You welcomed me into your family and treated me like a daughter. I will make you a promise and it is that I will take care of Cameron and Steven (and your precious Paris too) until we are reunited once again. I will do my very best so I can be there the day you wake up again. You will receive so many hugs and kisses once we see you again because so many people love you. Just imagine... your health will be restored and we will get to share many many more memories together for a lifetime. You were such an incredible human being. But this is not a goodbye, this is only an I'll see you soon. Until then I will keep you close to my heart, and I will remember you as the cheerful, loving person you were. I love you Anita.
