“ I just wanted to express our deepest sympathies for your loss of your son...I cannot imagine what you must be going through...but I can pray for God to give you His strength and peace and understanding like only He can. We will never understand why things in this earth happen the way they happen....but when we know that God has it all under His control and power and that He is always looking out for your good, hopefully that brings some peace to your sorrow. Your son is now in the arms of Jesus and his struggles of this earthly life is no more...But thanks to Jesus' promises you will be reunited one day in heaven where all is perfect...we are praying for you and your whole family as you go through this time of deepest grief...so sorry I did not know earlier...but my heart goes out to you ... you are so precious of God's children...and I know God is going to give you His strength, peace and understanding as we pray you up! “ Dear Joe and Alice, I was so sorry to hear about your son. It is said, no parent should ever have to outlive their child. Unfortunately, some do. It is so sad when the world captures a young person so thoroughly. I pray that the Lord will give you the peace and strength you need, there is none better. God bless you all.
