“ We loved you from the day you were born, always a happy, loving person. There were times when I wanted to wring both you Mikes neck, but when I looked into those angelic faces, I just wanted to hug you both. God had his hands on you both and both of you turned out God fearing man. We know how much you us. Our hearts are broken.

Love you too the moon and back!

“ We met you as Dan then learned by you were Clyde. It took me a while to keep that straight but all that really mattered was you were our friend and we are grateful of that. You were such a strong man with an amazing attitude no matter the hand you were dealt or how you were feeling. You have helped teach me (and I am sure many others) that every day is a blessing, it is not promised to you and to appreciate the time we are given.

After seeing you so strong for so long in your fight it is hard to image your fight is over. I know you are healed now in Heaven and we will see you again but for now you will be greatly missed. You and all of your family are in our thoughts and prayers.

*We love you, friend!

“ I never expected this to happen and am so saddend that I will never see you again my friend, but I won't be selfish as I know you are in peace and in a much better place. Hopefully we will need again someday. Thanks for all the great memories, words of wisdom, laughs and smiles. Chasity, Kristen, Celeste and Ashton. You will be in my prayers! You will be missed Dan! RIP!

“ Dad, I love you forever more and I feel so blessed that you fought till your death with your illness so you could be around as long as possible for your family. It pains me that death separates us, but I take comfort in knowing God has a plan for us all. Now go rest high on that mountain because your work here on Earth is done. I love you Dad <3
