“ My Dearest Friend Edith,

As I look back I think of our friendship and all that we have shared. We shared good times and hard times, but most they were good times. The early morning talks about politics, religion, world events, the good old days, the importance of family and friends, and Jesus. And this was all before nine o'clock in the morning.

You taught me so much such as to ask questions, cook a good batch of northern beans and to enjoy lunch out with friends. You would laugh and tell me you can't take it with you. 🌻

The last year has been a long journey , but you would say “ I'm not worried God's got this. You taught us all to have more faith. I knew you were growing weary. You talked of how you missed Don so much.

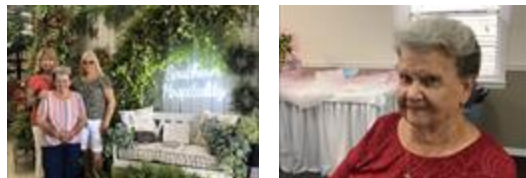

I know you are whole again. No pain, strife or worries , only joy of being with loved ones and in the presence of Jesus. I won't wish you back here, instead my beautiful friend I will celebrate you home.

I will see you on the other side. Wait for me because as you often told me, “ Girl are you late for everything “? 😊 I've you Edith Irene..
