“ I met Jason my sophomore year of highschool. I was interested in the shirt he was wearing. He had on a green shirt with the writing, "make 7" (front) "up yours" (back). We joked about that and become good friends after that. We graduated together, were in the Army together and even worked together out at Eastern Metal Supply in Lakeland. We even lived close to each other and he would often just stop by out of the blue and vice versa. You will be greatly missed. RIP Jason and thanks for being such a great and supportive friend.
