“ Jennie was a dear friend and has been such an inspiration to me as we both walked through the battlefield of fighting cancer. She was so kind and helpful, and would listen to me and all my questions. Just one little thing she did, which was a really big thing for me was hunting kiwi fruit for me. I'd just gotten home from Chicago and chemo treatments and was so sick and didn't want anything to eat. She called and asked if there was anything at all that sounded good, and I said kiwi fruit. It wasn't long until she was at my door with a bag of kiwi's. She stayed and talked to me and shared her experiences and gave me hope and strength. She always had a smile and such a wonderful sense of humor. She will be missed so much, but our loss is Heaven's gain.

Mary Jane,

That sounds like what mom would do. I'm thankful that you guys got to share and support each other as it's important to know you aren't alone in your battle. Mom had great love to give everyone around her whether she knew you or not and was a person with a kind soul. May you stay strong and healthy and we'll keep you in our thoughts and prayers.
