“ *"Jeremy you was the bestest friend anyone could have , You was there for us through the ups and downs , you helped us when we was in need and had our backs. If there was one wish I had was to have you back here with us . You was one crazy man , and sweet and caring , I remeber the last time I seen you :(I knew that the motorcycle was to much for you , i wish i could go back in time and tell you not to ever drive it agian . If heaven wasnt so far away i would tell you to come back down here and continue your life , you should have lived longer then this . We will always love you and miss you country boy ! “ Jeremy's family and friends are in my prayers, Jeremy was a very thoughtful and caring person. I first met Jeremy through my son and then when his father was dating a friend of mine. He was always a joy to be around. with deepest sympathy, Kathy Evans

“ Dearest Kathy and family; my heart cries for you at this time. Words can not express the pain of heart you must feel for the loss of your son. May Jehovah grant you fortitude to weather those these difficult days ahead. May it be of comfort knowing that others has travelled this road before you. A bible writer put it so aptly when he said in Psalms chapter 56, verse 8 "Do put my tears in your skin bottle, are they not in your book?" David was sure that God personally collected the many tears he shed for the loss of his son. Your sadness is unique and only God can understand your pain. May Jehovah remain close to you at this time. Psalms 34, verse 15,18.

“ Jeremy truly was a great guy with such a great heart! weither or not he chose to show everyone was his decision.. but he really showed me!! I was the good girl that he begged to be with to change his life, but my own happiness was more important at the time :(I regret that decision more and more each day that passes. I loved him soo much and thought he was just playing me..but then later that night he rode around all night with my twin pooring his heart out to her about me...I wish I would have known then...I would have changed his life and mine in soo many ways..now its just my life that has changed and his is gone :(R.I.P. Jeremy i'l never forget you babe.
