“ There isn't a time with Jesse that I'll ever forget , he was always caring and kind to me in many ways ,always was a phone call away think he was the first guy I hopelessly fell for back then like all the other girls In school but after about two years of not talking we reconnected recently this year actually , going through hard times with my relationship overworking myself with two jobs an he'd meet up with me just to catch up on some old time or to pick me up from work regardless of what time it was ,he was simply an amazing soul that I know will live on through all of us♥ rip Jesse John's you'll forever be loved and remembered ,be careful crusing around on your bike in heaven because I know you'll find one :)

“ i cant tell you how much I miss jesse in words. there is none, but what i can say is he was the most amazing person I've ever met. he lifted alot of people up. he supported so many people,he was always there for everyone and any problem. he never not once bashed someone who treated him wrong. he forgave everyone. that is what I loved about him. so from this day on i will forever try to do exactly what he would of done. he might not live on with us face to face. but he is always here in our hearts and that will never change. he is gonna do some amazing things upstairs. i will not say goodbye becuase i know there is never a good bye. it's a see you again soon. save a place for all your loved ones. go fishing. do the things you love. you don't half to be depressed anymore or suffer. we all love you jesse. ❤️

“ Having only met Jesse one time, I remember how charming and kind he was.

Times will be different now and his leaving will change our world. All we can do is wonder what life would have been like if he had survived.

Just remember that inside the painful feelings of his absence is where you will find his presence. You can hold in your hearts how very much he loved you and know that you will see him again..
