“ Dear Panell Family, Was hoping that the day we took the food to the house we would get to see Mr.Panell again. But, Got the call on the way over that he had passed away. We miss him so much.He was so faithful to the house of the Lord.He came so many times when he didn't feel like it.I also remember seeing him @ the little store at the Flea Market. He would always work on lawn mowers.Liked to piddle, is what most people call it today. Just a comfort knowing that he's a Christian and he's in Heaven with Jesus and he's not suffering anymore. The separation is hard there will be times that you wanna talk to him and see him and hug him.He may not be there physically but, he's close in heart. He holds many dear memories to his family.God only takes the very best when he makes his bouquet. What a Reunion we will have in Heaven some day.Hold onto your memories and all of God's promises and hold each other close through these times.Press forward,keep going for your loved ones.One day you can meet again in Heaven at his new Residence. Love you all.Your in our prayers.##imported-begin##Belinda Ashworth##imported-end##

“ May your angel sit by you in your time of need and hold you hand to give you strength. Once you have cried I hope you will reminisce with your loved ones and find happiness in his memories. Remember He is the one star that keeps burning so brightly He is the last light to fade into the rising sun He is with you whenever you tell his stories For he is all he's done Remember He will still be here As long as you hold him In your memory, remember him He is that warm voice in the cold wind that whispers And if you listen youi½ll hear him call across the sky As long as he still can reach out and touch you then he will never die and he will always be there with you forever God Bless##imported-begin##John John##imported-end##

“ I remember the time daddy bought a train car full of Potatoes. He only had a certain amount of time to unload them, so we all helped unloading the train box car full of potatoes. Do you know how long it takes to empty a box car of potatoes, one potato at a time? A long time! Not to mention there were a lot of rotten potatoes. We laughed to this day remembering this and many more adventures daddy got us into. Thanks Daddy for the memories.
