“ Merry Christmas! Stephen, Hunter, Cheryl, and I miss you! Its hard to believe that 4 years ago today we were opening presents together Christmas morning! We had no idea it would be our last one together. You may not be physically here with us but your in our hearts. Walking through the wood, sitting in a stand, cozy by the heater, opening presents, and eating dinner your presence is still felt. We love and miss you! Thank you for watching over us! Merry Christmas 😊

“ Hey! I wanted to tell you happy father's day. It's really messed me up that your gone. You were a good father to Colton and I. You stepped up to be mine. You taught me how to be a great dad myself. You taught me so much. Every single day that goes by I do something that you gave me the knowledge to do. That is why I have to tell you thank you and happy father's day.

Stephen has ALWAYS viewed you all as his family. He loves you guys and treats you all as his own. This is completely uncalled for, not to mention mean and childish. He did absolutely nothing to deserve to be talked to or treated this way. John may not have been his biological father but John was there for the biggest portion of his life. He loves John and misses him just like everyone else does. Regardless of what anyone says John loved Stephen as well. He showed that during phone calls and visits. Regardless of what anyone else's opinion, Stephen's feeling towards John are not irrelevant and I will NOT sit here and keep my mouth shut when someone is treating him this way. He woke up on Christmas day with John on his mind and in his heart. However, when he went to tell him how much he misses him this is what he got. It was very childish, mean, bitter, incorrect, and uncalled for.. This is beyond ridiculous! He can't help what happens between his mother and anyone in the family. He met John as a child and John was a father figure to him. He has his own father and brother whom are very much so a part of his life but he still loves John and Colton as much as he loves his own father and brother. Just the same as he has a grandma but he views and loves Granny as his granny and Aunt Donna as his aunt. He views them all the same.. He never held any of the drama against ANYONE. Regardless of the drama he still treats everyone as family and has even defended you all but this is the love he gets back. None of any of this was under his control nor his fault. All he did was accept the new people in his life with an open heart. Rather than like most children and be an asshole because life as he knew it changed and he didnt have a choice in the matter. Its absolutely absurd for anyone to treat him this way. He and John had spats like all teenagers do but NOBODY has the right to sit here and say he's fooling anyone. He loved John and John loved him. He's simply on there to tell them man how he feels and people want to say stuff like this. He isn't bothering anyone! Just simply missing John. Leave him alone!

Wow! I can't believe a grown woman, a mother and grandmother at that, could be so childish. I guess I'd be full of hate if I'd walked in your shoes too. It must have been a very difficult to swallow. The way everything played out would have broken my heart as well. I will be praying for you. Praying that he brings you peace, takes all that anger and hostility off of your chest, and most of all helps you to finally be happy. Stephen knows in his heart how John felt about him. He doesn't need confirmation from you nor anyone else. You pissed me off but he's just fine because he knows what him and John had. He also knows you are bitter and miserable so you are lashing out at him. Just like he held conversations with you and probably vented at times, he did the same with us as well. We all know each others business 😊. I hope you find peace and can eventually be happy.

It's a shame that your death has caused "certain" people to not care what they say about you and the people you loved. He NEVER loved you, and you know that. He was going to leave you, why do you think he wouldn't move with you? You FORCED him to get a divorce and made his life a LIVING HELL until he did. You can delete what you previously said so you look better to the public, but people who really knew John no how terrible you were. They know how terrible you've treated his family since this, and they know all the lies and stealing you've done. Be lucky you aren't in jail. You're a coward and always have been. You know what John would do if he were still here and saw the way you've treated his ONLY son. I'm sure he is turning in his grave. John was an honorable man and good hearted person. I will always love you John Wilson we have had some bad ass times together! It was never boring. I loved alligator hunting with you. You are and always will be the best alligator trapper. I could go on and on but will save it for another day. Thank you John for everything in life and death. You are missed dearly. “Cuz, you lived your life on your terms, but you were stolen from us because of the ignorance of another.
I will never forget you or the times we had, the times we went hunting, crawling on hands and knees thru the swamps to get to the hog the dogs caught, wading around the bay filling a 14' Jon boat full of mullet and crabs, the nights out at the power lines drinking, raceing, picking up girls, you kicking my ass when I got to out of hand, you having my back the night the riot broke out in the Brandon Kmart parking lot, helping you rebuild your truck after it caught fire, I will never forget you cuz, love ya

*Do not go gentle into that good night,
Old age should burn and rave at close of day;
Rage, rage against the dying of the light.*

*Though wise men at their end know dark is right,
Because their words had forked no lightning they
Do not go gentle into that good night.*

*Good men, the last wave by, crying how bright
Their frail deeds might have danced in a green bay,
Rage, rage against the dying of the light.*

*Wild men who caught and sang the sun in flight,
And learn, too late, they grieved it on its way,
Do not go gentle into that good night.*

*Grave men, near death, who see with blinding sight
Blind eyes could blaze like meteors and be gay,
Rage, rage against the dying of the light.*

*And you, my father, there on the sad height,
Curse, bless, me now with your fierce tears, I pray.
Do not go gentle into that good night.
Rage, rage against the dying of the light.*

If anyone truly knew John Wilson they knew he was a very private man. He would never have wanted anything like this posted by his EX-WIFE on his memorial page. How disrespectful of his memory. And any of John's true friends knew how much John loved Cheryl and loved his life with her and in fact was going to ask her to marry him before his life was taken too soon. John in fact was right beside Cheryl everyday and he in fact loved her so much he made sure that she was well taken care of even after his death. So before you cast stones and disrespect John maybe you should in fact go look up your final divorce papers they are public record . Rip John Wilson Im sorry that people have to be childish and disrespect you by putting anything like this on your memorial page.

Oh Megan, how silly you are. John was kicking Cheryl out of the house and made sure we all knew about it. He didn't love her, never did. Just felt bad about her. John would be turning over in his grave right now knowing what Cheryl had done to his real family and the bad mouthing, lying, and stealing she has done. Cheryl always cried how John didn't love her, even she knew it. All she ever did was preach about how unhappy he was and how he didn't even want to be in the same bed with her. So before you go preaching about things you don't know... maybe you should get some facts. I have screenshot if you want them ;) Cheryl had to put a tracking app on him, should know where he really was, at that wasn't with her. If there was any respect that's deserved it's to Colton and John, and that would be for Cheryl to get and stay out of their lives forever. They never would have been family and they never will be.

My favorite was watching he and Kev Byrd catch an alligator on Christmas morning one year - the footage ran on BayNews9 all of Christmas Day. “ Oh John, John the alligator guy, John that still rocked the mullet like no other (at least that's what I call it since you are the only one I still cut hair that way. LOL) Every 3 weeks or so you would call or text to get worked in or have Cheryl get you an appointment, well after a few years I finally taught you how to make a standing appointment, then you couldn't fuss as much and you did good! I always looked forward to you and Cheryl coming over to visit and catch up and yes, get you locks cut but only after I washed the glue out, haha, You always had the last appointment so we would all have time to hang out, then Jamie would come join and you two would start down memory lane-laughing and carrying on, some evenings would get so late that I'd think darn-we need to order a pizza or better yet-have Cheryl fry us up some of her famous chicken you always rave about. While you were in my chair though, you were also John the neighbor!! Awww, time for a set up... John, we have new furniture coming...could you help Jamie bring it in?? John, we need to trim that tree back, could we borrow your long pole saw, then next thing you know, he and Jamie would be out there trimming those limbs....oh and then..we're going out of town.. Cheryl could you keep an eye on the place, maybe get the mail etc,,, we came back from the Keys one year and even out grass was mowed. John was right there with Cheryl, keeping an eye out, picking up mail and even mowing...who does that? Way above and beyond... Our John with his Cheryl, that's who. It was said that he was nice, well, it goes way beyond nice. Oh we all know and love the tough, fussing and carrying on John, then we all know that John's heart is bigger than any of his fussin. This past year I've seen a calmness and peace within John, a happiness, a completeness. I have stories that could go on forever, we've been neighbors for 25 years and I've been blessed to cut his hair for many of those...you know about shop talk..LOL,, John, you are so missed, I still wave at what sounds like your truck going by, the things you've shared with me and my girls will resonate forever. There is nothing like being a city girl then finding herself in the rural area where we're in with a neighbor named John, the alligator guy. We Love You. I'll shut up now!

“ John,

Thank you for the love and care you provided our family with. Colton and I have so many wonderful childhood memories with you and Mom (Beverly). My heart aches knowing you are no longer here with us on earth but we find strength in knowing you're looking down over us providing comfort for our grief from Heaven.

Growing up, you helped toughen me up, spending countless weekends in Perry at the Hunting Camp. I remember packing the truck down with the dogs in the back, you, Mom, Colton and I in a single cab truck for at least 6-8 hours, only to arrive to what seemed like a 5x5 camper. I remember the tears when you convinced me to stop being a sissy and try your “chicken nuggets” which were secretly your freshly hunted hog.

As time went on, we got older, the truck got bigger, and we even upgraded our camper. I actually looked forward to next hunting season. I was never like Colton with a gun in my hand and hunting down a hog, but I know I made you proud loading and feeding the dogs and checking for tracks from the top of the dog box.

Thank you for the memories John, thank you for raising my brother to be as strong, kind, and responsible as you. Thank you for caring for and loving me as if I was your own.

“ John I believe there is a time a place and a reason for all things in our lives. For those of us left here on earth, we know your time and your place but will forever wonder about the reason you were taken so early. Only God knows the answer.

Your Aunt Faye and I baby sat you when you were just weeks old and watched you grow from a cute little kid to a handsome young man and to a confident mature adult. And we loved you always.

I will forever cherish the memories of the times we fished and and hunted together. They were fun and exciting(scary) times.

You were a good nephew, a good dad, and a good man. Your passing leaves a whole in my heart.

R.I.P. Johnny. Love ya. See you on the other side.

“ So many memories from when we were younger, hanging out with Vince, Scot, Sarah and your mom and the gang. You were always there to keep us in line, make us laugh and watch out for us all. You had the biggest heart of anyone I have ever known. My heart is heavy for your family and loved ones who feel your loss at a deeper level than even we do, but for sure the world was a better place with you in it. Sending your family love and prayers and when we think of you we will always do it with love and celebrate your life and memories. Sending you heavenly love!

“ John, You were taken to soon. You touched my life in so many ways. I will miss your kiss when I get home from work, and holding your hand while we watched T.V. You were a confident man and was invincible to me. You made me feel safe. You protected me and kept me safe. When we gator hunted together you made sure I did everything right so I wouldn't get hurt. I've learned so much while we were together. You taught me how to hunt deer, turkey and alligators. John loved his job at the alligator farm. It was his passion. John worked with alligators and even worked cattle and fixed fences. There isn't anything at his job he didn't know how to do. He always talked about a bull called #2. When he drove into the gate and started calling the cows, #2 would come up and start bumping him trying to play and want him to rub his head. He loved that part of his job as well. He said he never did the same thing twice. John had a heart of gold. And would help anyone he could. John was a good man. Anyone who met John liked him. You will be missed so much and will always be in my heart.

I love you John and I will forever miss you. Thank you for always being there for me. Until we meet again

It is better to have loved and lost than never to have loved at all.

I WILL LOVE YOU ALWAYS, Cheryl

AGAIN... HE WAS TAKEN FROM US TOO SOON... HE NEVER SAID "I LOVE YOU CHERYL", because he didn't!! He was planning on getting you out of his life FOREVER... again where do you think he was all those times you couldn't get a hold of him??? He was with me...He wasn't even sleeping in the the same bed in the end. You want to paint a picture to everyone how much he cared about you... he was OVER YOU, unfortunately his life ended before he was able to change things.. are you proud of yourself for the things you have done to his family... do people know you forged his name on a check.. do they know you tried to get money from a account your name wasn't on.. guess what mine was and they contacted me... your lucky your not in jail... have you used any of that money to pay the IRS , have you used any of thst money to pay back micky or towards the grave marker...NO... your selfish white trash and you always will be!!!

*Different paths along the way,
We all are meant to learn some things
But never meant to stay...
Our destination is a place
Far greater than we know
For some, the journey's quicker.*
