“ This woman was a wonderful mother and grandmother. She was a good Christian woman, but what most people didn't know is that she also was a ton of fun. One day I was fortunate to accompany her family on a camping trip. All the long dirt roads were covered with mud and we had a check of a time getting down there only to discover we needed some essential item from the store. Mr. Pelland gave her the keys and off we went. She handled that mud like it was the most wonderful thing and not at all an obstacle. She hit every mud hole, laughing and screaming woohoo! It was a blast, Mr. Pellands pickup got covered in mud but he didn't care, because she was having fun. Ill never forget that day as long as I live and I'll never look at a mud puddle the same either.
