

Mrs. Lucia Grace Corsiglia

January 16, 2015

Lucia Grace Corsiglia passed away January 16, 2015 at age 97. Born Lucia Grace Ferrara, but known to all as “Nonnie,” she leaves behind two children, five grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren. She received a B.S. in nursing from NYU, graduated first in her class from Brooklyn & State Hospital, and was on the staff of New York Hospital and Cornell University. After marrying Albert Corsiglia, she moved to Miami to start a family, but continued her career at Miami Baptist Hospital (1963-1981), eventually becoming Head Nurse of the Neonatal Intensive Care Unit. She was active in her community, serving for many years as a Cub Scout and Girl Scout leader and for three years as a PTA president. After the death of her husband, she moved to Temple Terrace to be near her grandchildren. From early on in her life, Lucia was a patron of the arts, particularly dance and opera. She often assisted at her daughter’s school, Firethorn School of Dance, and was much loved by students and parents alike. Raised as a Catholic, Lucia was drawn to the teachings of The Baha’i Faith, joining the Faith at 84. She particularly loved the prayers and the teachings regarding the oneness of humanity, was an active and beloved member, and served on the first Local Spiritual Assembly of Temple Terrace. In 2004 she moved to Plant City, where she lived with her daughter (Lucia C. Hatcher) and son-in-law (Dr. John S. Hatcher).
