“ My heart is broken and I am sad, but my comfort comes from knowing you are safe in the arms of your loving Jesus who has taken away all of your earthly pain and suffering. I am comforted knowing you and daddy are once again reunited. Your love and memories remain with me and will comfort me in the days ahead. Your loving daughter, Jane

“ Grandma no words can ever describe what you have meant to our family and you will never know the countless lives you have touched and impacted. I pray you know how profoundly you touched and influenced my life. My selfish heart aches because you have left us, but I will take comfort in our memories and the love between a grandmother and grandson that knows no end. You have made this world a more caring and warm place and have given us the gift of hope for a better day. I never wanted to say goodbye so I'll say tell Grandpa hello and give him a huge tight hug and my love. I miss you already, love you so very much and will think of you everyday. With endless devotion and love, Tony
