“ Aunt Patty you were an amazing woman , aunt , and all that applies, it keeps coming back to mind.. when I was little girl you had white drapes in the kitchen and the kitchen table in front of the window, I was eating Oreos you told me don't touch the drapes soon as you turned around ...I smeared the drapes with Oreo., you spanked my behind that's the only time I got a spanking from you..but deserved it , I did it on purpose .. but any way you were and are an amazing..and if we would all follow you as an example , it would be a much better place , you will be missed by all , and were truly loved and respected by all ..rest easy aunt Patty and keep watch over us all I love you ...

“ I must say that although I personally did not know your parents but did meet them when I was little, thru the years I heard my parents speak of them and never anything negative. They thought a lot of your parents, and go way back. Y'all are in my thoughts & prayers.
