“ *Pip,
My beloved friend. You were like a big sister to me. You were a beautiful spirit, so cool, and perfect in my eyes. I’ve never met a friend like you since. You come into my mind often, but especially during times I need you most. I can’t ever think of you without crying, maybe because I realize that I f*cked up. I wish i could talk to you just one more time, that conversation would be so precious to me. My daughter was supposed to be born a day before your birthday, but instead 3 days before. How crazy is that?
This life isn’t at all what we expected, but I know you are free. I love and miss you so much. Rest In Paradise Queen.*

“ Dear Phillipa,

We haven't seen each other in years , I went my way in life with working and Sara(fiancee) and you moved to orlando to start a better life. I'm sad that are paths never crossed and we never talked much. The last time I saw you, you had a party in your barn and I made a fool of myself partying harder then you aproved of. As a result we stopped keeping in touch. Years later i tried to get reconnected with you, but I wasn't doing the next right thing and you gave me a ear whole about how horrible I was (which was true) and that you wanted nothing to do with me. Finally a year ago we finally talked when i got my life in order and you forgave me for the foolish things I did at your party a few other things. Now that your in a place we should all be envious of, I hold in my heart when i think of, the fact that you forgave me and was happy to talk to me and really wanted to see me. I don't know if I could bare the heart ache if you would of past and we were still on bad terms. I miss you so much and can't help but cry when I think of you. I miss picking you up for school every morning and be mesmerized by your beauty watching you walk from your house to my car. I miss are everyday skate sessions at your house. I miss going out with you on the weekends. I miss very thing about you and wish i could relive or at least watch videos of the years we got to hang out. You have the most angelic smile that could make the saddest or maddest person crack a smile. I loved that you always were yourself when we hung out as a group. Even though you were the youngest you never tried to act different to impress or to gain approval. You were always kept it 100 and stayed true to yourself. Your personality and beauty attracted people for miles and it was never a boring moment with you. I always considered you one of the greatest friend I had. Your family and you treated me like one of your own, whenever I needed help if you couldn't take care you it Lisa would. As the tears roll down my face writing this I pray that we will see each other again and have the reunion that we planned to have. Please tell Sara and Brooke how much I love and miss them and please watch over your friends and family and keep us all safe. I LOVE AND MISS YOU , THE “ Pip you always could put a smile on my face. With your tough exterior but sweet and loving heart. You will be missed by many and are gone way too soon. You made an impact on my life and I'll always remember the days of you teaching or trying to teach me how to cook, the days you did my make up for me just to make me feel better, and of course just the days we spent watching netflix all day or jamming to 36. I'll miss your beautiful smile and our conversations for hours about absolutely nothing. You were one of those friends who knew how to be there for me with out having to say anything at all, just being there was enough. You were the one who got me out of the house when I refused to leave because you couldn't stand to see me upset. I had so much fun working with you, goofing off and laughing the whole time. I didn't get to say good bye and I hope you know no matter what happened between us, you made an impact I'll never forget. Watch over us all and keep smiling beautiful.

When we found out the news of you, my daughter and I were devastated. It rained, the sun came out and a double rainbow appeared and I thought of you. Mo is devastated as she was to be with you that weekend but couldn't. As a parent, I cant imagine what your family, especially parents must feel. I offer my condolences, love, strength and sending them peace. I remember you coming to the house and I thought you were beautiful..your spirit was strong. I pray for you and wish you peace in your new life. I bought a candle for you and Monique slept with it nightly until it went out. You will never be forgotten. “ I remember first meeting Philippa in high school. I told her she was gorgeous and she flashed me a big smile. After that, She invited me to her sweet 16 at the hardrock cafe and also to her 17th or 18th at the house, the one that the cops kept trying to shut down because the music was too loud. hahaha I remember when she got her dreadlocks and I went on a trip with you guys to beer can island. Philippa and I asked you for sparks and we drank them on the way. She looked perfect at the beach, I always hoped I'd be just as beautiful too. I remember her always standing up for her friends and she would tell me that I needed to stand up for myself and not let people walk on me. When she and Ashley fought this girl Kelly, I didn't want to jump in and Philippa said she respected that. I miss her laugh, her boldness and her courage. I miss her love of life and her individual freedom.

“ Pippa--You are a beautiful soul, inside and out. You never failed to make anyone smile because your smile was so infectious. You brightened every room you walked into. I remember our trip to PA. You girls were something else, I tell ya! We had a great road trip and good times on the ski slopes (not that I skied!). All you four had some awesome stories. You were just a bubble of joy. You were one of a few of Michelle's friends that she never had an argument with. She loves you so much. I'm saddened that I won't see your smile, however, the memory of it will last with me forever. Thank you for being such a good friend to Michelle and for always being so sweet to me. I wish we could all go back to the days when all was fun and carefree. My thoughts and prayers go out to your family and friends as I know they are heartbroken. May God shine a rainbow over your family so they know you are safe with him as they stand under your colors. Say hello to my mom, she will keep you safe! Love you, Pip!

“ Pippa - I am so lucky to have known you as a friend and worked with you for the past year when you were in SoCal. I still remember the first day you came in wearing a suit, covering up your sleeve and I just laughed because I totally knew that was not you. You were real, had more personality than the entire building we worked in, and made working together so much fun. In fact, I can't remember a time I didn't see you with a huge smile on your face. Thanks for the good times, the wonderful memories, and for being a kick ass friend. I lived vicariously through you and will really miss you. My thoughts are with your family and friends. - Huy

“ I will always remember Pippa's smile and personality. We were Best Friends in middle school she would always be at my house or I would be at her house. I will never forget the time we entered the dance contest at the dolphin dance! We had all kinds of moves! And when we got hungry at her house she would make some ramen noodles and chicken wings! She loved her chicken wings! Those were the days that i will never forget. Philippa was so beautiful and will be missed so much!! My prayers go out to all the family and friends... “ I remember meeting Pippa when she was just 15. She was always so sweet and thoughtful, always smiling and laughing. Even though we didn't keep in touch very much, the times that we did we were always laughing about something. She definitely brought people happiness and that I will never forget. People should always be remembered for the good they did in life and Pippa was a perfect example of just that. Happiness in the purest form.

“ Marek, Lisa, Ashley and little M, I cannot begin to imagine what you are going through. I wish I could say something which I knew would give you comfort. But I know no words can ease the pain you are feeling. Pippa was so beautiful inside and out, and that beauty will live on forever in the hearts of anyone who ever met her. Every life she ever touched was a better one for it. She will be truly missed.

From that point on she was my best friend . Although we didn't talk all the time, when ever we did it was like nothing changed. She was so intelligent, kind, and just a beautiful soul all around. “ My heart cannot begin to express the sadness that is felt. But, Pippa would only want us to celebrate the memories that she left behind. Stories to be told, laughter at the crazy times, smiles abounding. That would be Pippa. Great music, funky outfits, everyone celebrating the essence of a beautiful girl. Now she is in eternity with her Heavenly Father She will watch over from above, and her spirit will always be felt among those she loved. The spirit never dies. Kaitie has so many funny memories to share. She and Pippa were quite the pair. My favorite picture is one of Kaitie and Pippa dressed as lunch room ladies. They had an unstoppable imagination. Perhaps they were best known for their version of "party boy". Tomlin Middle had never experienced anything like it. Then there was the day they dressed like boys, including the plaid Abetcrombie boxers. It was a hit with everyone, except the staff. So many great memories from a very special girl. Here's to you Pippa, we will all miss you...

“ Pippa had the most beautiful smile and had a brilliant sense of humour. Nothing could illustrate that more than the evening Marek and I came back after having a few more drinks than we should. Between wrestling with the dog, falling all over the place and personal items falling out of back packs we were not at our proudest. Pippa thought it would be genius to record the evenings events on her phone and then fool us into thinking the evidence had been posted to YouTube the next morning. Pippa's amusement and our distress. Not to be repetitive but Pippa's smile would always make me and anyone who saw it, instantly happy. A truly beautiful young woman and deeply missed.
