I remember "the cousins" coming to grandma and grandpa's house during the summer when i was a kid. Robert always had a great sense of humor and was fun to be around. He was a good, hard working man who loved his family. He will be missed by those who knew and loved him. RIP cuz.

“ Growing up a little girl always needs an amazing male figure in her life. One to teach her how to saddle up and ride horses. Peepaw was my teacher. He taught me how to appreciate the country and always knew how to keep me in line with a leather strap with my name engraved on one side. He taught me how to clean horse stalls and work with your hands. He also showed me there's nothing I couldn't do and to not be afraid to get dirty. My favorite memory of all time was working in the horse stalls and getting some dried up horse poop and getting into the most intense game of a horse poop fight. Peepaw was the most amazing person I could have ever had in my life. Anyone who knows him, knows he loves John Wayne. The one quote that reminds me of him is, " Courage is being scared to death, but saddling up anyways."- John Wayne. So when it's my time to come home Peepaw, come riding up on Ketch and come get me.
