Today I had to look for you once again . The last time I came looking for you I found you in Plant City Florida and a man named Virgil Spears told me that the only children you had were Rita,Brenda,Sabrina and Todd.I asked him then if he couldn't look at me and tell I was your daughter.I will never know why you walked away from us.We were only kids with me being the oldest and still only 8 years old.But even still thru the years I searched and searched for you but to no avail and then a couple of years ago I tried one more time only to find you had missed people.I was hurt and very angry,but I still kept looking and this time I watched the obituaries to be able to find you one more time.Not really sure why I kept looking and had no idea that it would be yet another heartbreak.I really had no idea that your death would effect me like it has considering the times you abandoned all my attempts to see you.I do know that now my searching is really finally over.I know I have to at last make peace with you in my mind as my Mother.Even tho you weren't there I guess I never stopped hoping,but at last I can lay it down now.

*Your Eldest Daughter,

To Rosa Ann Byrom Coleman: My heart breaks for you, but let me be clear. It is only for the fact that you never really had the mother that I have had, but certainly not because you didn't have this woman as your mother. I only met her and those half-blooded family members you had when I was child and don't remember much other than the conversation that I had with Rita several years ago. She told me then this woman was not worth finding, let alone, talking to. This coming from the child that she didn't leave behind. I didn't really understand that then, as I really wanted to know her because she was my grandmother, and I thought that surely after all those years, and if she met us and spent time with us, she would have to feel remorse and that the healing could begin. Then, a couple of years ago, like you (which by the way I have NO problems being like you) my curiosity got the best of me and I had to search again, only to find that Rita had died, with no contact from anyone to tell you that your own sister passed. So I called this woman, that by blood was my grandmother, and decided after that heartless, feel sorry for her, conversation, she wasn't worth any more effort.

I can't imagine what pain this has caused you in your life and for that, I will never be at piece with her.

I just want you to know, that I truly believe, as hard as I am sure it was, she did you all and Paw Paw a favor. I am thankful today that she wasn't around to influence you. You have been, and still are the strongest woman I know. I love you!

“ I am at a loss for adequate words to express my sadness for your family. I had the blessed opportunity of knowing your mom and I know heaven just received one of the most special angels. You are a reflection of your mother in the way your treat people with respect and empathy. Not to mention the way you make each person feel loved. I am so sorry for your loss. My love to all, Tammy Bledsoe
