“ She truly put a glow in every single person life she came across knowing her was knowing no pain because her laughter melted away all doubt she raised such beautiful children that loved her so much that you felt it just on the smiles on their faces a few months I knew this beautiful woman. She became one of my favorite parts of my day, and I know that she never felt alone, not for one moment because she was loved by so many people she couldn't ever possibly be forgotten. My prayers are with her family as they celebrate everything that made her the best mom ever if you need anything in this time of loss, I'm here for you. You always have a friend.
