“ My fondest memory of Sandy, my Best Friend of 40+ years, is playing Backgammon for hours. We always found time to get together to play. Of course you won most of the time. When I join you in your Heavenly home, I know you'll want to have the gold dice while I get the paltry silver! I'll miss you and our time together forever, until we meet again...

“ Sandy and I were cousins. We both got married within a couple of months of each other. We would write each other all the time. She would always tell me how much she loved being married and how much she loved Billy. I love you Sandy even though we didn't see each other.

Sandy, Sharon and I were friends all during High School. Sandy is one of those people you never forget and think of fondly. We had such good times and good memories growing up.
