“ Sandy was such a light in the world. I consider myself fortunate to be known as one of her friends. Even though we only saw each other in the Winter months we shared so many laughs and sometimes a tear over the years. She introduced me to "steak on a stick" and taught me many life lessons. Her family was top of the list. Just know that she loved each one of you so much, you were her life.

“ I first met Sandy and her husband David around the late 1970s, possibly the early 1980s. At that time Sandy was someone who could easily catch your eye and hold your attention. She was a beautiful, young, vibrant woman. She could put on her dress up clothes and look great, or she could show up barefooted, dressed in blue jeans and T-shirt, and still look awesome. Her husband David was a lucky man to share his life with such a lovely woman. Sandy led a simple, but purposeful life. She was a terrific mother and wonderful sister to her extended Pate family. Her departure is a loss for all of us.
