“ I Love You Daddy. I have & will always cherish many memories with you. We will always have our long conversations, letters & sometimes late night calls mostly just about life. I'm so thankful that you kept your faith through everything. You taught me how even when I'm weak, I have to give it to the lord. I know you are resting on that high mountain right now. Looking at us all, smiling & knowing where you belong. I want to be selfish, but I can't keep you from such an extraordinary new beginning. You have made it! I'm blessed that you are my Dad & I can't wait until I see you again. 💖💖

“ I enjoyed Uncle Steve's letters, which he would write to us on special occasions like graduations. He was always encouraging in the letters and ready to pass on any wisdom he could. He certainly maintained faith, and may he rest in peace.
