“ Sending my deepest condolences to the Giella family from Hungary. I recently learned about Thomas’s fascinating work in meteorology, space weather forecasting, and his dedication as a ham radio operator (W4HM). His passion even connected beautifully with my favorite TV series, 'Invasion' (2005), which was set in Homestead and centered around weather anomalies. Thomas was a brilliant mind whose legacy reached all the way across the ocean. Keeping your family in my thoughts.”
