“ Words cannot express the sorrow that I feel for you. No parent should ever have to lose a child. Our loving Creator knows how hard this is on you. We are told at Ezekiel 18:22 “for I do not take any delight in the death of someone dying, is the utterance of the Sovereign Lord .” As you can see, He does not like death anymore than we do. It is not his will for us to die which is why He has given us the hope of everlasting life! (Psalms 37:9-11, 29; Rev. 21:3, 4). As the God and Father of tender mercies, He wants you to find comfort in Him through prayer (2Cor 1:3).

“ The last time I saw you before we left that morning you were holding my little girl and smiling. I am so thankful that you picked me up that morning and I had those few precious minutes with you!! I will never forget the times we had together, I still have your finger nail polish from you doing my nails a few weeks ago. Scarlett even has the finger nail polish on her toes from you painting them! I loved going to your house and staying for hours just talking and hanging out. I enjoyed being around you so much that I always ended up staying until 10 or 11 at night. I remember how our yard sale was an epic fail and we got rained out. I think of us going to the gym and laughing so hard because we were too uncoordinated to kickbox!! Everything around me reminds of you, at my parents house I seen the picture frame we made at Christmas when you wrote the kiddos names on it. My heart hurts so bad and now today I have to see you again to say goodbye, and I don't know how to, nor do I want to... so I am just leaving it as "Until next time Varanda"

“ Our little Varanda, I have so many fond memories, you and Matt setting at my piano playing with such big smiles when you were just little ones, Christmas's shares together in Florida, your visit to Tennessee when we first moved here. Your beautiful wedding to you loved one. Our memories will last and carry on in our hearts and our love. May God Comfort You. Till we see you again.

“ It broke our hearts to lose you. You did not go alone. For part of us went with you. The day God called you home.

“ Varanda we were such good friends close in our own little way. We have so many memories I will never forget. You will always be apart of me and with me which I carry on is our friendship tattoo. Everyday I see it and I think of you. This is so hard for me because out of everyone you was the last person I thought I would have to let go. I know I will see you again one day until then see you later love you.
